

Infinity Business Consulting, Inc

COMPANY PROFILE

More Proficient + More Productive = More Profitable

PHILOSOPHY

Infinity Business Consulting was founded to help businesses bridge the gap between their processes and their information systems. Our philosophy is to provide the right solution to the business challenges of each client. To develop the right solutions, we combine our three strengths:

Resources, Partnerships and Attitude.

RESOURCES

Infinity's team of business, application and technical consultants are from diverse professional backgrounds and share Infinity's customer-centric philosophy. Their experience is complimented with an extensive collection of certifications, including APICS, Cisco, Six Sigma, Microsoft, and ISO 9000.

PARTNERSHIPS

Infinity has selectively partnered with key companies providing exceptional products and services, including Epicor, SoftBrands, Dell, Microsoft, AppRiver, Forensic Discoveries, and Tech Data.

ATTITUDE

Long term client relationships are more important than short term solutions. Infinity Business Consulting wants to be the one place our clients go first with their business challenges.

“Business Processes” “Applications” “Information Technology”

“Total Enterprise Support”

The manufacturing world is a sea of catch phrases and buzz words. When it comes to the latest innovations, Infinity Business Consulting understands that companies are not asking “What does it do?”, but want to know “What does it do for me?”

Every company is different, but they all have a common need: more time. More time to plan. More time to execute. More time to review and revise. We can't add hours to our day, but we achieve a similar effect by becoming more proficient and more productive at what we do. Companies that become more proficient and more productive are more profitable.

Infinity Business Consulting offers a diverse group of world-class products and services for manufacturers. These products and services increase proficiency and productivity because they are aligned with the company's specific business objectives.

More Proficient + More Productive = More Profitable. It is not quite an equation for “time in a bottle”, but it is close. Time to answer a customer's question instead of digging for information in multiple systems. Time to optimize a production schedule instead of researching inventory levels. Time to measure results instead of creating endless reports. Time to Plan. Time to Execute. Time to Improve.

Business Processes

As companies grow and evolve, they are constantly facing new challenges. Often, these are handed off to internal team members, on top of their normal day-to-day responsibilities. Sometimes, a challenge is so urgent there isn't time to wait for an overtaxed internal expert to become available.

Perhaps the challenge is so unique, it doesn't justify the cost or time to acquire a new specialist.

Infinity Business Consulting provides resources so our clients can focus on their core competencies. We do this through dozens of senior level business consultants available to supplement our customers' internal teams. These professionals, each with 10+ years of Clients of all sizes turn to Infinity for workflow optimization, material flow analysis and other process improvements. Our senior consultants understand how businesses work and the impact people, capital, information and equipment resources have to overall success.

Applications

From ERP systems to custom programs, Infinity Business Consulting has a strong background with business applications. Our application team can assist with ERP selection, implementation, training and support as well as develop custom applications to meet specific needs.

Epicor
While Infinity does not take a "one-size-fits-all" approach, we have partnered with Epicor as our strategic ERP solution provider. The Epicor suite of software, especially their manufacturing products, provide the flexibility and scalability to meet the majority of our clients' needs.

Fourth Shift®
Infinity is one of the largest teams of Fourth Shift® consultants in the world. We assist Fourth Shift® sites with new module implementation, upgrades and training. We have also developed several "bolt-on" applications for the Fourth Shift® community, including SalesHORIZION and Core Reports Suite.

Custom Applications

If your company is facing a challenge beyond your current business management system, Infinity offers custom program development. Our customers have been able to add years to the life of their ERP system with our cost-effective solutions.

Information Technology

In today's market, technology can give you a significant advantage over your competition. The challenge is committing to an innovation at the right time and having the resources to implement and support it so the advantage is realized.

Infinity meets this challenge with a wide range of IT services, from executive level technology roadmaps to ongoing daily support. Our clients leverage Infinity's resources to supplement their team with specific skills or outsource entire IT projects. Infinity provides software, network, security and communication support while minimizing overall IT costs.

Total Enterprise Support

Infinity excels at blending all three of the critical Enterprise areas: Business Processes, Applications and Information Technology. Our solutions are more effective because we work with the entire Enterprise in mind.

By offering any combination of the three critical Enterprise areas, our clients benefit from a single point of contact, a "one-stop-shop" of business support. Our goal is to become the one resource our customers turn to first for all of their business challenges.
